Looks Like Two Victories for the Giants in To-Day's Games.

AND THEY DIDN'T EXPECT ONE.

Philadelphias Try Murray, a Young Jerseyman, as Short Stop.

DUKE FARRELL WAS INJURED.

Struck on the Knee-Cap and Painfully Wounded, but Continued Playing.

(Special to The Evening World.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, June 20.—Fifteen minutes after the completion of the first game the teams again took the field.

The victory in the first game stiffened up the nerves of the Giants in fine shape and they had strong hopes of again defeating the visitors. The Quakers were permitted to take first ball at the ball.

The attendance was good, there being at least 6,000 persons present. The batting order was as follows:

New York. Philadelphia.
Fuller, ss. Hamilton, cf.
Burke, 1b. Turner, rf.
Davis, 2b. Cross, lf.
Doyle, 3b. Delehanty, lf.
Gard, c. Hamilton, 1b.
Van Halten, cf. Doyle, 2b.
Tanner, rf. Reilly, 3b.
Farrell, c. Grady, p.
Rusie, p. Grady, p.
Umpire—Mr. Stage.

First Inning—Hamilton hit on balls. He was thrown out trying to steal second. Farrell to Ward. Turner rolled a puzzling one a few feet in front of the plate and beat it out first. He got to second on Doyle's miff of Rusie's hot throw. Cross sacrificed, Rusie to Doyle. Turner reaching third. Delehanty base on balls. Doyle hit for two bases, scoring Turner and Delehanty. Hamilton hit to Ward. The ball struck Doyle, thereby putting the runner out at second.

Fuller on balls. Doyle hit for two bases, scoring Turner and Delehanty. Hamilton made a fine running catch of Doyle's fly to short center. Ward out to Doyle. Grady base on balls. One run.

Second Inning—Reilly out, Fuller to Doyle. Weighing fouled out to Farrell. Grady base on balls. A floral horse-base was presented to Turner as he came to the base. He didn't do as most of them do—strike out. Instead he hit a fine line drive to short center. Grady and Hamilton on third. Cross out. Van Halten singled past second. Turner, base on balls. Farrell bunted successfully and scored. Doyle hit the ball out to first and so filling the bases. Rusie fielded to Delehanty and Van Halten scored. Turner was thrown out at third by Delehanty. Farrell, however, made second on the play.

Farrell walked from first to second. Turner scored. Burke slapped a peach to right which got by Fuller. Grady scored, while Burke rested at third. Davis out, Hamilton to Doyle. Three runs.

Third Inning—Delehanty out, Ward to Doyle. Doyle hit for two bases, scoring Turner and Delehanty. Hamilton singled past second. Turner singled by first and Van Halten reached third. Reilly scored. Farrell fielded to Hamilton. No runs.

Fourth Inning—Reilly lifted a fly back of Ward. Ward hit to Fuller, made a gallant effort to capture it, but failed. Callahan struck out. Fuller hit to Doyle. Delehanty singled past second, filling the bases.

Farrell was hit on the left knee with a foul tip and rolled on the ground in agony. It hurt him on the knee cap. Time was called.

After rubbing it vigorously Farrell arose, prepared to resume his work. He was enthusiastically cheered for his pluck. Hamilton hit a grounder past first to right and Cross and Delehanty scored. Doyle hobbling up to second. He, too, was lamed, and the Phillies weren't in all shape. Farrell was again put short, again filling the bases.

Callahan struck out. Murray struck out. Two runs.

Tanner fielded to Hamilton. Farrell batted a single to short center. Doyle reaching second. Fuller hit into the crowd at the foot of the right field ropes and made a home run. He was presented with the freedom of New York for his pluck. Farrell scored. Doyle hit for a base. Davis out, Hamilton to Doyle. Three runs.

Sixth Inning—Hamilton was declared safe in an hit to Fuller. The latter threw low to Doyle. Turner struck out.

Score by Innings.

ARRIVALS ON THE TEUTONIC.

Prominent New Yorkers and Several English Noblemen.

The ocean liner Teutonic reached her dock at 2 P. M. to-day, after an eventful passage.

There were 120 first cabin passengers, including Miss Frances Willard, Roosevelt, Roosevelt, First Secretary of the American Legation, London, J. D. Pierpont Morgan, Miss Morgan, J. D. Pierpont Morgan, Sir Peter Walker, Barr. Mr. Hamilton, Capt. Hill-Male, of the British army; Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanier, Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, Miss Lucy Pulitzer, Miss Edith Pulitzer, Miss Constance Pulitzer, Sir Charles Mills, C. B. K. C. M. G.; Right Hon. the Earl of Jersey, C. M. G.; Hon. Sir H. de Villiers, K. C. M. G., and Lady Villiers.

The English noblemen on the list are delegates to the Colonial Conference to be held in Ottawa next week.

At the word the Teutonic dropped down to quarantine this morning to meet her guests. J. D. Pierpont Morgan, on the arrival of the Quaker, was met by the yacht steamed up alongside. Mr. Morgan remained aboard the Teutonic, however, until she reached her pier.

BOTH DUELLISTS WOUNDED.

Far Westerners Fight at Fifteen Paces near Chicago.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 20.—Bailey Norris, of Wyoming, and Geo. M. Sanders, of Montana, fought a duel yesterday morning at Summit, twenty miles out of Chicago.

Sanders was shot through the left shoulder, while a bullet from his revolver ploughed through the right cheek of Norris.

The men have been enemies for some time because of their mutual admiration for the stock yards, where they both had arrived with cattle, and a fight followed, in which revolvers were drawn, but no shots fired. Friends arranged to place the matter out in some open place.

Early yesterday morning the two men, each accompanied by a friend, went out to Summit on the Alton road, and at the second shot Sanders got a bullet through the shoulder, and although both men were anxious to keep on, the fight was stopped and the quarrel ended.

HARRY HILL ON THE STAND.

The Ex-Dive Keeper Says He Was Freely "Bled" by the Police.

SAYS MURPHY IS A TRAITOR.

He Got Him Transferred, He Declares, and Was Compelled to Put Up Large Sums.

DRIVEN OUT OF THE BUSINESS.

Mrs. Clinton Admits Having Committed Perjury in Testifying as to Her Character.

(Special to The Evening World.)

THE feature of to-day's session of the Police Committee's investigation of the Police Department was the appearance of Harry Hill, the ex-sporting man and dive-keeper.

His testimony was of a sensational nature, and he accused Police Captain Murphy, formerly of the precinct in which he was located, of "bleeding" him for large sums of money.

He says he was finally driven out of the business because he refused to pay the Police $800 after having paid $1,000 a week previously.

Before the Police Investigating Committee resumed its work this morning there were rumors that another day of sensational disclosures was to be expected. Mr. Goff, the chief inquisitor, hinted last evening that he was prepared to open up a new line of inquiry to-day, and that a number of witnesses had been summoned to the stand.

The result was that the space behind the railing usually reserved for witnesses was crowded with bluecoats this morning, while four or five fashionably dressed women, who were escorted into court by Parkhurst detectives, were given seats in the opposite side of the rail rear the counsel's table. There was promise of a lively session.

Uncle Dan Bradley, who was one of the first members of the Committee to arrive, was considerably exercised over a letter which came to his morning mail. It contained, he said, a clipping from three or four columns long containing advertisements evidently of places of questionable resort in the Windy City.

Chicago Wants the Committee. "I wonder what they sent that to me for?" queried the Senator. "They surely didn't expect the Committee to go out and investigate the wickedness of Chicago. We have enough to do right here at home."

Mr. Goff was not present when Chairman Lexow called the Committee to order at 10:40 A. M. so Mr. Moss asked the Committee to wait for him. He soon came in, wearing a dark suit and a white shirt, and he glanced with evident satisfaction at the row of "June buds from the Tenderloin" ranged up behind the table. Some of them were a look of curiosity, others of defiance in heavy eyes, as Mr. Goff went up to the desk to have a preliminary conference with the Senators.

All the members of the Committee were present with the exception of Senator Saxon. Chairman Lexow made the announcement that there were no suspensions against Doorkeeper Anderson, who had been spoken of as having disappeared and was suspected of having been the secrets of the Committee. Anderson, he said, had been sent away on work connected with the Committee.

Divver Heard From. "Has Police Justice Divver expressed any desire to make a statement to the Committee in vindication of himself?" asked Chairman Lexow of Mr. Goff.

"I have received no communication whatever from Justice Divver," said Mr. Goff.

Ex-Judge Ransom said that although he was not authorized to speak for Justice Divver, he fancied that he was more deliberate than Senator Roosevelt in appearing before the Committee. He had said he saw in the morning papers that Justice Divver had been interviewed and had denied very emphatically the truth of the statements made against him yesterday by the Committee.

Justice Divver was not in the courtroom and there was no one there to represent him. He regarded the denial of the charges against him in the newspapers as amply.

Lucy McCarthy's Housekeeper. Mr. Goff then called on the first witness Ida L. Morton, who said she was employed in 1902 and 1903 by Lucy McCarthy, a housekeeper at the time she was a disorderly house, and Mrs. Morton said she accepted the position of housekeeper from necessity. She had an invalid husband and children to support, and said she had been told to keep the books and look after the house.

"How many girls did Mrs. McCarthy have in her house?"

"There were ten boarders and others came in in the evening. I was not an inmate of the house. In the usual sense of the term."

FAT IS NOW BARRED.

All Permits Revoked by the Board of Health To-Day.

It Cannot Be Carted Over Ferries or Bridges in Future.

It May Be Rendered If Collected in the City.

(Special to The Evening World.)

The Board of Health at its meeting this afternoon resolved to revoke the permits in force for many years, permitting fat to be brought into the city for rendering purposes.

The permits specially revoked are those of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, issued in 1878, under which they were allowed to bring fat from Williamsburg, and another issued in 1880 to the same firm, allowing them to "cart fresh, sweet fat over any North or East River ferry," of Joseph Stein, issued in 1889, allowing him to "cart fresh, sweet fat over any North or East River ferries."

The Board of Health also denied the application of Joseph Haberman, who was permitted to bring fat into the city from outside places, and of the Eastman Company and P. Donohue & Son, for the same privilege.

The application of the United Dressed Beef Company, of New York, to boil, heat, store or manufacture, in shop fat, tallow or lard at the corner of First avenue and Forty-fourth street, was granted, with the understanding, however, that the material so rendered be only such as may be taken from cattle slaughtered on the premises or collected from butcher shops in the city of New York.

The Board further resolved that the Sanitary Superintendent be directed to strictly enforce that part of the Sanitary Code which prohibits the importation of any fat into the city of New York, or the rendering or melting of any that has been brought into the city except by special permit in writing.

A further resolution directs the Sanitary Superintendent to visit and inspect slaughter-houses, fat-rendering and tallowing establishments, and report upon the number of them, their condition, and the methods employed.

He is also directed to give proper instructions for the removal of offal and other refuse in an inoffensive manner.

The hottest June 20 in the records of the local Weather Bureau was in 1883, when the thermometer registered 96 degrees.

Elas B. Dunn, the "Big Panatta" of the Weather Bureau, whose offices are located away up in the top of the Equitable Building, is busy trying to manufacture some cooler weather for the coming week, and he is working against the heat, however, for while he has succeeded in holding Old Sol in check some extent, the humidity has increased.

The temperature to-day is several degrees higher than that of yesterday, but the humidity has increased 10 per cent. "We are heading for a hot week, however, will be marked by a heavy rain, which is slowly moving Eastward. This is preceded by an exceedingly hot wave, which will reach us in the next few days. This wave is now hovering over the States in the Mississippi Valley, and is moving Eastward by the way of the Lake region and will dissipate the cool weather that is in that region at present."

DIED FROM THE HEAT.

Fireman Burns Overcome in a Cold Storage Warehouse.

Owen Burns, thirty-two years old, of 164 Dupont street, Greenpoint, was overcome by the heat at 6:30 o'clock this morning while at work in the engine room in the cold storage warehouse 141 Reade street.

He was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital, and he died shortly after arriving there. He was a married man. Burns was employed as a fireman. He was working at the time he died. The boiler for making steam for the engines that run the ammonia process apparatus at the cold storage warehouse is in the basement. While all the other five floors of the building are devoted to cold storage, the basement is like the black hole of Calcutta.

Julia Lenahan, twenty-eight years old, of 235 East Thirtieth street, was found unconscious in a hallway at 332 East Thirtieth street at 10 o'clock this morning. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital. It is supposed she was overcome by the heat.

It was learned this afternoon that Harry A. Chamberlain who was taken to Bellevue Hospital this morning from his home, 121 East Fifty-seventh street, suffering from insanity, the story of which is printed on another page, was not the son of the Harry A. Chamberlain, of the firm of H. A. & J. C. Chamberlain, formerly of 33 Canal street.

The Suburban Handicap will be run to-morrow at Sheepshead Bay at about 4 o'clock. The race will be run on the card. This will give many who are not able to reach the track early in the day a chance to see the big event run off. Weather Prophet Dunn has promised to keep the rain away, and the track should be in fine condition.

The field will probably be composed of an even dozen starters. At least this number are named to go to the post in the official list of entries sent out. The betting at the track to-day showed Ramapo as the favorite, with odds of 8 to 5. Sir Walter and Henry of Navarre next in demand.

This is the eleventh year of the big event. The official list of starters and jockeys are:
